PEISG Fall Conference Guest Speakers

Dr. Hugh C. Russell brings more than 40 years of community development experience that spans the globe, in addition to advanced degrees and research in social psychology and communications. Currently he focuses on mobilizing communities to more effectively deal with their individual, social and criminal justice issues. Russell is a specialist in mobilizing people to take more responsibility for reducing and preventing crime, and achieving justice in their neighborhoods. He consults police services on how officers can motivate community members to be more proactive and effective in increasing community safety, security and wellbeing. For over 25 years Russell has worked closely with police, other emergency services and military forces in Canada and the United States. In Ontario he is principal architect behind a strategy police have adopted province-wide, to stimulate residents in high-risk neighborhoods to take more responsibility for crime reduction, crime prevention and increased safety and security.

Cheryl Chapman, Senior Consultant at the South East LHIN for the areas of Primary Health Care, Health Links, and Chronic Disease Prevention and Management

Cheryl is an experienced health care leader, quality specialist, nurse and educator who has worked in all healthcare sectors. In January 2015, Cheryl accepted the position of Senior Consultant at the South East LHIN for the areas of Primary Health Care, Health Links, and Chronic Disease Prevention and Management. From 2013 to January 2015, Cheryl was the Health Links Lead with the LHIN. Previously, Cheryl has held various positions including Director of Primary Care, Access and Chronic Disease at Health Quality Ontario, Director of Quality and Risk Management at Providence Care (Kingston), and Director of Palliative Care (Providence Care, Brockville). Over the past 10 years the main focus of her work has been quality improvement in health care with more attention on primary care for the last 7 years. Her clinical specialty was hospice palliative care and community nursing. Cheryl holds a Masters Degree in Health Science (Institute of Health Policy, Management and Evaluation, University of Toronto), a Masters Degree in Education (University of Ottawa) and a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (McMaster University). She enjoys being a resident of Prince Edward County, where she's lived for over 16 years.

Brad Gunn, Nurse Practitioner, Prince Edward Family Health Team

In addition to clinical responsibilities, Brad has been actively working on the Hospital @ Home Pilot project and the Coordinated Care Planning Program with the PEFHT. As such, Brad is well versed in the challenges and opportunities of coordinating care across healthcare providers, agencies, and sectors and can share with us the successes and challenges of these initiatives to date.

Barry Freeburn, Staff Sergeant, Ontario Provincial Police Prince Edward County Detachment

Barry Freeburn joined the Ontario Provincial Police in 1984. He was posted to Killaloe Detachment for 15 years where he was assigned to general patrol duties, criminal investigations and the Emergency Response Team. Barry had the pleasure of being a Sergeant, shift supervisor before being transferred to the East Region In-Service Training, Unit Commander. In 2005 Barry was promoted to Staff Sergeant Detachment Commander in Bancroft Ontario until his transfer to Prince Edward Detachment as the Detachment Commander in 2010 where he is currently posted. In 2011, Barry was seconded to the RCMP for 14 months and posted to Afghanistan where he worked with numerous international agencies and other countries to assist in the development of the Afghan National Police Service.

Dick O'Brien, M.A.Sc., is a professional speaker and a consultant in human relations.

Dick O'Brien has been a therapist and a trainer for 32 years. Mr. O'Brien has held senior management positions in government and business. For the past thirty years, he has been assisting corporations, school boards, hospitals and police departments with issues of stress, wellness, counselling and leadership. Dick O'Brien received his bachelors and masters degrees from the University of Waterloo and continues to seek life lessons and wisdom from daily experiences. He has been in the seminary, a truck driver, an elementary teacher, director of a heroin treatment centre, an alcoholism counsellor, a university instructor, a marriage counsellor and deputy superintendent of a juvenile corrections centre. For the past 25 years he has been conducting trainings in Wellness, Leadership and Stress Management based on the universal principles of wisdom of the past 5000 years.
